About Us

Genesis & Background

The Founder and Managing Trustee of Light of Life Trust, Villy Doctor along with a few likeminded people came together and started Light of Life Trust. The vision was to transform the rural communities and the mission was to break the generational cycle of poverty, one life at a time. The hypothesis was that education would be the way to alleviate poverty.

Following a need assessment study of the local community in Karjat, Project Anando was launched in the year 2005 with 25 children in Karjat Tehsil, Raigad District, Maharashtra, based on the belief that no child should be forced to drop out of school.

The founding members focused their energies on establishing a community centre for women, a senior citizen home, a children's home and a medical diagnostic centre through Project Jagruti and a hospice and a Research & Development centre through Project Aangan.

Story of Change

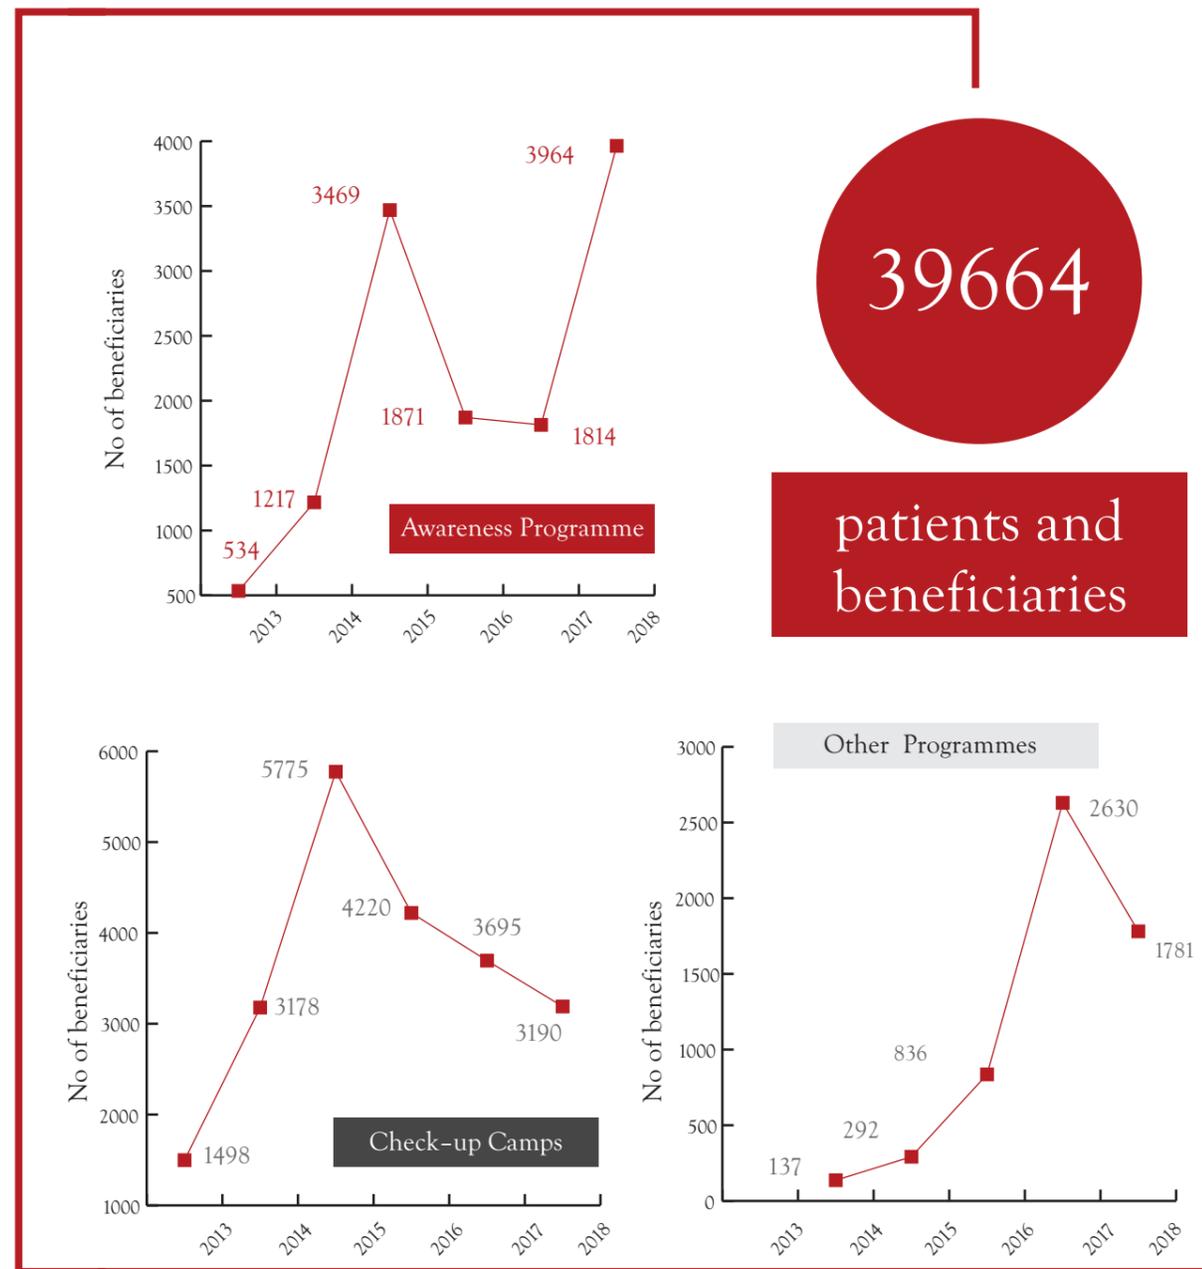

Nirguna Thombare

Nirguna's is a story of grit, determination, and inspiration; it is the story of a 30-year-old skilled, confident & courageous woman who has become an embodiment for 'empowerment'. Compelled to drop out of secondary school early on in life due to poor financial circumstances, Nirguna was married off to a complete stranger at the young age of 22. A troubled married life soon led to a separation from her husband. At that time, with little education and almost no skill set to support her, Nirguna felt helpless and went through a difficult phase in life due to low self-confidence, frustration and dejection. Two years ago, in March 2016, she came across LOLT's Jeevan Asha Community Center at Tiware and got a chance to interact with the team. Inspired by the different types of courses offered in vocational skills at the center and the optimism of the team, she enrolled for the Sewing & Tailoring and Beautician Training courses. From then onwards, there was no looking back. Slowly and steadily, as she became more engaged in work, Nirguna was able to overcome her challenges. With LOLT's support, she acquired income generation skills, became more confident, and learnt to communicate and carry herself with pride and dignity. In 2017, she gathered the courage to file for a divorce and finally brought an end to her distressing marriage. After successfully completing the two courses, Nirguna started to stitch & offer beautician services at her home. She became a part of the LOLT tailoring production unit at Tiware and started stitching school uniforms, cloth bags, and much more. In October 2017, she also enrolled for the Landscape and Lawn Development course and has started a small plant nursery with 5000 saplings in her own backyard. The nursery brings her an income of approx. ₹12,000/- every season. In addition she has now started cultivating vegetables too. It doesn't end here. She recently completed her short term courses in Toran, Mehendi and Jewellery designing at the Jeevan Asha community center and is currently earning ₹3,000/- to ₹3,500/- per month through various skills sets. A strong and independent woman today, Nirguna is paying-it-forward at LOLT by mentoring the other young girls and women at the community center. She is instrumental in decision making at her home and at the village level too now, and provides great support to her family of three.

Story of Change

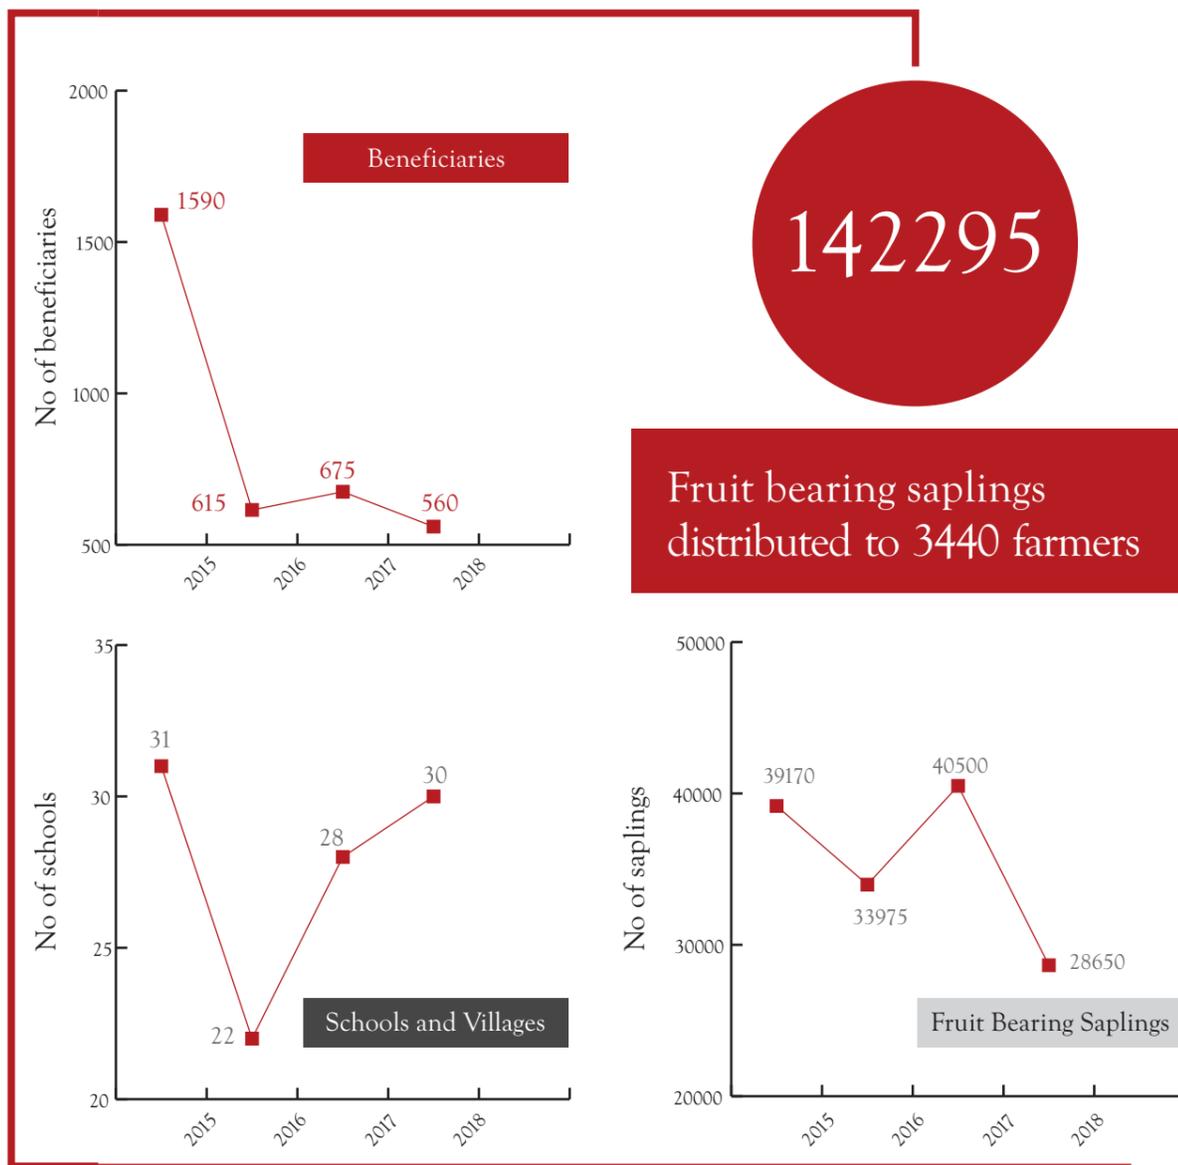

Ragini Chaptre

Two and a half year old Ragini during one of our health camps was diagnosed with Congenital Talipes Equino Varus or Club Foot. Ragini was referred to a medical mega-camp at Kashele Rural Hospital organised in collaboration with MGM Hospital. Ragini was then treated with the application of plaster cast. However, this treatment added to Ragini's distress and discomfort. With LOLT's constant support and guidance, Ragini's father admitted her to the Vignaharta Hospital where she underwent surgery. Currently, the toddler is recovering well and will soon be able to walk with a normal gait.

Environment Conservation Programme

This program was initiated with an aim to provide additional source of income to poor farmers with the distribution and close monitoring of fruit bearing saplings to them.

Stories of Change

Rahu Dev Wara

Rahu, a 64 year old uneducated farmer from Khandan, Karjat planted 60 fruit bearing saplings in 1 acre of land. In addition he also planted 100 more plants on the same plot. To mitigate water shortage he dug a 4 x 6 ft. pit. He fenced the area for cattle protection and followed all the inter-culture practices. Looking at his tremendous efforts he was awarded the Adarsh Shetkari, Karjat Tehsil (Best farmer) award at a function held by the Raigad Press Club on 31st July 2017 in the presence of the Raigad Prant

Officer, Tehsildar and Block Development Officer and many prominent regional journalists. His plants are now bearing fruits and so are his efforts.

Valku Dharma Dhole

Valku Dhole a hardworking and humble person was surviving by farming on a small plot of land. He was selected as a beneficiary under LOLT's Environment Conservation Programme through which he not only received 35 fruit bearing saplings but also learnt about additional sources of income through goat rearing & cultivation of leafy vegetables. He works really hard to look after the 35 fruit bearing trees that he planted on his own land. He carries water over a distance of 1.5 kms to ensure they grow well. All his plants have survived and this summer he was able to reap his first fruit harvest of guavas and custard apples. He is very happy and has gained further confidence once his plants have started bearing fruits. After harvesting the paddy crop he has been able to cultivate leafy vegetables. He has also initiated goat rearing on a small scale. As he saw success of his efforts he gained confidence in his ability to do much more than only farming in order to support his family.
